

Transparent masks – process for procurement and notification of masks which comply with the technical specification

The flow diagram below sets out what SLTs in England should do if they become aware of a transparent mask either through their own research or promotion by developers and manufacturers.

Following this process will help to:

- Inform everyone about which masks have been assessed as meeting the required technical specifications set out by government.
- Speed up procurement of clinically safe transparent masks at local and national levels.

