

ANTI-RACISM IN SPEECH AND LANGUAGE THERAPY;

Continuing the movement

Further to the success of the Anti-Racism event held in Sussex in December 2021, SLTs across Sussex are invited to an additional workshop event on:

Wednesday 4th May 2022
1:30pm - 4:00pm

This workshop will offer an opportunity to take stock of 'where people are at' in their teams followed by focused learning and discussion on allyship and intersectionality and is aimed at Speech and Language Therapists as well as any Speech and Language Therapy support staff.

You will be discussing issues with SLT colleagues in breakout groups.

Register Now

This important programme of learning, developed with RCSLT anti-racism group members, will aim to bring us together as a profession in Sussex and:

- Build shared knowledge of the importance of anti-racism, diversity and inclusion within the profession and for our service users
- Understand where we are as a profession and where we want to be
- Recognise how intersectionality effects people every day
- Reflect upon how we can be actively anti-racist by becoming an ally
- Build on our practices in teams around cultural inquisivity
- Begin to make a commitment to ensuring that conversations around race are live and present

Itinerary
13:30-13:35	Log in and test your Zoom
13:35-13:45	Welcome and Introductions
13:45-14:15	Where have we got to?
Allyship
14:15-14:25	Allyship Learning
14:25-14:45	Allyship Group Work
14:45-15:15	Refreshment Break
Intersectionality
15:15-15:25	Intersectionality Learning
15:25-15:45	Intersectionality Group Work
15:45-16:00	CLOSE

Register Now

