

Could you help us support inclusive communication for all in Wales?

We know that 1,000s of people across Wales experience communication difficulties every day. In partnership with a range of charities including Communication Matters, we have created the Communication Access symbol and training to support inclusive communication for all. We want to ensure that we hear from Welsh speakers with communication difficulties and are excited to be creating a Welsh language version of Communication Access this year.

Are you a Welsh speaker? Have you had lifelong communication difficulties or experienced any communication difficulties resulting from conditions such as a stroke, head and neck cancer or dementia? We would love to hear from you by Monday 28 July 2025.

We are looking for several individuals over the age of 18 who would be willing to be filmed sharing their experiences of communication difficulties over the summer, what helps and what doesn't. Your involvement will be vital to ensuring that support improves for people with communication difficulties across Wales.

You can see examples from the English version of the Communication Access training and more background on the initiative. For an informal chat about the opportunity or to show your interest in the opportunity, please contact Caroline Walters (Welsh-speaker) by e-mailing Caroline.walters@rcslt.org or phoning 029 2002 5585.
