

RCSLT South West Regional Hub

What is the Hub?

How can you get involved?

Four key areas of focus

1. Professional development / CPD
2. Service development
3. Research
4. Raising awareness, campaigning, influencing

Working regionally and nationally

Hubs provide the networks of SLTs to inform and engage at a regional and UK wide level on key projects such as:

- Development of a UK wide approach to outcome measures
- Developing the evidence base through national & regional CENs, national & regional RCSLT Specialist Advisers & research champions
- Influencing budget holders and decision-makers (Giving Voice champions and service leaders)
- Identifying examples of good practice and issues affecting the profession

How can Hubs add value?

- Do not replace existing networks
- Create opportunities to strengthen partnership working add value to existing networks
- Enable different members of different communities within the profession to come together
- Provide an infrastructure to support the whole profession

How can Hubs add value?

Getting involved

- Become a Hub advocate
- Join the SW Hub steering group